AirTies Air 4920 Wins 2015 TV Connect Award for Best TV Consumer Device

Istanbul, TURKEY – AirTies Wireless Networks, a leading supplier of advanced wireless and OTT/IPTV technologies, is delighted to announce its Air 4920 has won TV Connect Award 2015 for Best TV Consumer Device. This sought after accolade acknowledges AirTies' Air 4920 wireless video bridge as a game changer by maximising both wireless performance and range within the home.

The Air4920 is a Smart Access Point enabling full wireless coverage throughout the home using unique AirTies Mesh technology. A set of Air 4920 Mesh nodes creates a unified Wi-Fi network with multiple wireless APs delivering fast internet and premium video to multiscreen devices (TVs, STBs, PCs and mobile) throughout the home.

Philippe Alcaras, CEO of AirTies, said: "We are very proud to have received this prestigious industry award for Best TV Consumer Device. This award will increase awareness of both the product and AirTies technology throughout the industry. "AirTies mission is to provide consumers with superior wireless connectivity and quality of service inside the home."

The TV Connect Awards are amongst the industry's most desired, comprehensive and competitive technology awards, widely respected and judged by leading experts from the main Telcos and Service Providers around the world. They reward technical and product marketing excellence across the cable, satellite, terrestrial broadcasting, mobile and IPTV sectors. This year's TV Connect Awards winners were announced during TV Connect in London, at the Gherkin, on April 29, 2015.

About AirTies
